ROYAL COLLECTION

STATICE & LIMONIUM 2025 / 2026

SUSTAINABILITY THAT BLOOMS

Did you know that our Limonium crops originate in the Mediterranean and that there are more than 200 varieties? Both Limonium and Statice stems are beautifully structured with lots of small florets at the ends of the lateral branches, making them ideal for wildflower bouquets. Up close, the flowers may look very delicate and fragile, but they are super strong, versatile blooms with a very long vase life. After drying, they retain their colour and continue to give joy for an even longer time. Back in fashion, totally hip and trendy and the perfect finishing touch for every bouquet.

We Care, So We Act

What sets our flowers apart is their ability to thrive under various climatic conditions. Our varieties are rigorously tested around the world, showcasing their excellence, regardless of the climate. We also concentrate on selecting productive and virus-resistant varieties so as to bring the production footprint down even further. It's just one of the many ways in which we improve every day to become more sustainable.

Taking responsibility for our future and future generations – we care, so we act. You can read our Corporate Social Responsibility report by scanning the qr code, if you want to find out more.

Growing Success Together

Royal Van Zanten breeds and propagates Limonium and Statice in an endless array of contemporary colours that are available all year round. In this catalogue you will find a complete overview of our collections. But which varieties are right for your cultivation method? We are here to help you make the right choice for you, wherever you may be. STATICE

With Statice you'll brighten up every bouquet and add value. The flowers are super strong, versatile and have a very long vase life without fading, even after drying.
